Equipment

- 1. "Lathes, grinders, welding machines, cranes, cars, drilling machines, trucks, 16 tractors, 23 personal cars.

Production

- 2. "Skoda steam shovels, cranes, bridges, spare tank parts (tanks were finished in Turcansky Svaty Martin), large caliber antiaircraft guns. Stalin Organs (Katusha - automatic guns) are produced at Vorosilov from spare parts which are brought from other factories. Stalin Organs are produced underground. antiaircraft guns 6 meters long and 10 centimeters in diameter. weapons were tested on the proving ground belonging to the factory. Enclosure A, number 67. These antiaircraft guns were sent directly to the USSR. I do not know any production figures.

Personnel and Wages

- 3. "The factory employed 7000 to 8000 workers, 300 of whom were apprentices, and 30 of whom were Soviets (27 men and three women). The Soviets supervised antiaircraft gun production. They lived with their families in Trencianske Teplice, Trencin and Ilava. The average earnings of the factory employees were as follows: workers: 300-4000 kcs a month; clerks: 4000 kcs a month; specialists: 5500 kcs a month; foremen: 9000 a month (before the monetary reform of June 1953).

Factory Organizations

4. "The Communist Party, Youth Organization, Labor Union and the Organization of Friendship with the USSR were all represented at the Vorosilov Works.

Shifts

5. "The Vorosilov Works operates in shifts from 0600 to 1400 hours, and from 1400 to 2200 hours. During the week there is also a night shift.

Security Measures

6. "Security measures at the factory were strictly enforced. A worker was not permitted to enter a section unless specifically sent there. Each factory section had its own entry permit (pass), and at the entrance to each section there was a guard. In all, there were 350 armed guards at Vorosilov.
7. [redacted] that on June 20, 1953, there was an espionage trial, because a guard had seen a 19 year old apprentice taking photographs in the factory. The trial revealed an underground group consisting of four workers and three apprentices. The 19 year old apprentice was condemned to death, and the others were sentenced to seven years imprisonment each.
8. "The Bratislava - Zilina highway which is seven to eight meters wide, runs along the factory, as do two rail lines."
